Espion Teams With Marketlink to Achieve Exponential Growth in Record Time

Wednesday March 8, 10:34 am ET

COSTA MESA, CA--(MARKET WIRE)--Mar 8, 2006 -- Espion International, Inc.(Other OTC:EPLJ.PK - News) announced today that it has entered into an exclusive partnership with Marketlink to build a nationwide distribution channel of authorized Espion Interceptor and [MX]Lock resellers. Marketlink will recruit resellers to represent the complete Espion product line.

Marketlink has a base of over 4500 resellers to represent the complete Espion email security line of solutions that is designed to support all businesses from small to medium to enterprise. "We are excited to be working with such a successful organization as Marketlink," said Drew Burdsall, CEO for Espion. Based on Marketlink's past successes with leading companies such as Barracuda Networks and Avanton, Burdsall believes Espion has a strong window of opportunity to get the AI based Espion solutions into the hands of the companies that desperately need comprehensive email security or must meet certain government regulations.

The Espion Interceptor is a powerful, AI based, easy to use enterprise-class anti-spam and anti-virus solution for businesses of all sizes. [MX]Lock secure email is the only encryption solution that utilizes a completely web-based interface and does not require any software to be installed. When combined, the Espion Interceptor and [MX]Lock offer comprehensive and virtually hands-free email security that secures the entire email boundary.

"We're pleased to strategically partner with Espion to provide an extremely effective and efficient email security solution," said Dan Dempsey, CEO, Marketlink Technologies. "This best-of-breed solution allows both SMB and enterprises a single, secure appliance that is cost effective and simple to deploy with zero latency to their network. This solution is ideal for even the most security-conscious enterprises."

"We are extremely pleased to add Espion to our offerings, and are pleased to continue the momentum of assisting companies in keeping their network secure with the addition of the Espion Interceptor and [MX]Lock," said Dan Dempsey, President at Marketlink.
